

GSEM648 (variable)
Workshop

GSEM670 (1-12)
Guided Study Tour of the Bible Lands

Guided Study Tour of the Bible Lands

GSEM678 (1-8)
Church History Study Tour

Church History Study Tour

CHMN660 (1-6)
Field Practicum

CHMN905 (2-3)
Seminar in Theory and Praxis

PREACHING

CHMN505 (2-3)
Biblical Preaching

CHMN520 (2-3)
Contextualized Preaching

CHMN600 (2-3)
Preaching from the New Testament

CHMN605 (2-3)
Theology and Preaching

CHMN607 (2-3)
Preaching from the Old Testament

CHMN614 (2-3)
Preaching from Daniel or Revelation

CHMN621 (2-3)
Evangelistic Preaching

CHMN627 (2-3)
Black Preaching

CHMN637 (2-3)
Seminar in Preaching

CHMN680 (2-3)
Preaching from Selected Books of the Bible

CHURCH LEADERSHIP

CHMN518 (2-3)
Interpersonal Relationship Skills

CHMN610 (2-3)
Teaching Ministry

CHMN548 (2-3)
Religion and the Black Experience

CHMN630 (2-3)
Leadership Development

CHMN550 (2-3)
Pastoral Psychology

CHMN638 (2-3)
Seminar in Leadership

CHMN555 (2-3)
Pastoral Counseling

CHMN643 (2-3)
Christian Professional Ethics

CHMN557 (2-8)
Practicum in Clinical Pastoral Education

PASTORAL CARE

CHMN567 (2-3)
Health Ministry

CHMN540 (2-3)
Church and Urban Community

CHMN569 (2-3)
Chaplaincy Formation

CHMN544 (2-3)
The Church and Social Problems

CHMN545 (1-3)
Pastoral Ministries and Church Policy

CHMN546 (2-3)
Marriage and Family

CHMN547 (2-3)
The Ministry of Healing

CHMN640 (2-3)
Seminar in Pastoral Counseling

This seminar provides an overview of the history and theory of pastoral counseling. It includes a study of the biblical and theological foundations of pastoral counseling, as well as an examination of the various models of pastoral counseling. The course also covers the practical aspects of pastoral counseling, including assessment, diagnosis, and intervention.

CHMN641 (5-8)
Practicum in Military Chaplaincy

This practicum provides students with hands-on experience in military chaplaincy. It includes a study of the history and theory of military chaplaincy, as well as an examination of the various models of military chaplaincy. The course also covers the practical aspects of military chaplaincy, including assessment, diagnosis, and intervention.

CHMN644 (2-3)
Seminar in Chaplaincy Ministries

This seminar provides an overview of the history and theory of chaplaincy ministries. It includes a study of the biblical and theological foundations of chaplaincy ministries, as well as an examination of the various models of chaplaincy ministries. The course also covers the practical aspects of chaplaincy ministries, including assessment, diagnosis, and intervention.

CHMN645 (2-3)
Seminar in Marriage and Family Problems

This seminar provides an overview of the history and theory of marriage and family problems. It includes a study of the biblical and theological foundations of marriage and family problems, as well as an examination of the various models of marriage and family problems. The course also covers the practical aspects of marriage and family problems, including assessment, diagnosis, and intervention.

CHMN646 (2-3)
Seminar in Specialized Ministries

This seminar provides an overview of the history and theory of specialized ministries. It includes a study of the biblical and theological foundations of specialized ministries, as well as an examination of the various models of specialized ministries. The course also covers the practical aspects of specialized ministries, including assessment, diagnosis, and intervention.

CHMN647 (2-3)
Christian Education in the African-American Church

This seminar provides an overview of the history and theory of Christian education in the African-American church. It includes a study of the biblical and theological foundations of Christian education in the African-American church, as well as an examination of the various models of Christian education in the African-American church. The course also covers the practical aspects of Christian education in the African-American church, including assessment, diagnosis, and intervention.

CHMN655 (2-3)
Dynamic Group Strategies

This seminar provides an overview of the history and theory of dynamic group strategies. It includes a study of the biblical and theological foundations of dynamic group strategies, as well as an examination of the various models of dynamic group strategies. The course also covers the practical aspects of dynamic group strategies, including assessment, diagnosis, and intervention.

CHMN659 (1-4)
Practicum in Pastoral Care and Counseling

This practicum provides students with hands-on experience in pastoral care and counseling. It includes a study of the history and theory of pastoral care and counseling, as well as an examination of the various models of pastoral care and counseling. The course also covers the practical aspects of pastoral care and counseling, including assessment, diagnosis, and intervention.

CHMN665 (2-3)
Advanced Pastoral Counseling

This seminar provides an advanced study of the history and theory of pastoral counseling. It includes a study of the biblical and theological foundations of pastoral counseling, as well as an examination of the various models of pastoral counseling. The course also covers the practical aspects of pastoral counseling, including assessment, diagnosis, and intervention.

EVANGELISM

CHMN515 (2-3)
Wholistic Small Groups

This seminar provides an overview of the history and theory of wholistic small groups. It includes a study of the biblical and theological foundations of wholistic small groups, as well as an examination of the various models of wholistic small groups. The course also covers the practical aspects of wholistic small groups, including assessment, diagnosis, and intervention.

CHMN536 (2-3)
Personal Evangelism

This seminar provides an overview of the history and theory of personal evangelism. It includes a study of the biblical and theological foundations of personal evangelism, as well as an examination of the various models of personal evangelism. The course also covers the practical aspects of personal evangelism, including assessment, diagnosis, and intervention.

CHMN539 (2-3)
Church Growth and the Equipping Pastor

This seminar provides an overview of the history and theory of church growth and the equipping pastor. It includes a study of the biblical and theological foundations of church growth and the equipping pastor, as well as an examination of the various models of church growth and the equipping pastor. The course also covers the practical aspects of church growth and the equipping pastor, including assessment, diagnosis, and intervention.

CHMN561 (2-3)
Preparation for Public Evangelism

This seminar provides an overview of the history and theory of preparation for public evangelism. It includes a study of the biblical and theological foundations of preparation for public evangelism, as well as an examination of the various models of preparation for public evangelism. The course also covers the practical aspects of preparation for public evangelism, including assessment, diagnosis, and intervention.

CHMN562 (4-6)
Field Evangelism

This seminar provides an overview of the history and theory of field evangelism. It includes a study of the biblical and theological foundations of field evangelism, as well as an examination of the various models of field evangelism. The course also covers the practical aspects of field evangelism, including assessment, diagnosis, and intervention.

CHMN563 (2-3)
General Field Work

This seminar provides an overview of the history and theory of general field work. It includes a study of the biblical and theological foundations of general field work, as well as an examination of the various models of general field work. The course also covers the practical aspects of general field work, including assessment, diagnosis, and intervention.

CHMN565 (2-3)
Contemporary Denominations and Religious Groups

This seminar provides an overview of the history and theory of contemporary denominations and religious groups. It includes a study of the biblical and theological foundations of contemporary denominations and religious groups, as well as an examination of the various models of contemporary denominations and religious groups. The course also covers the practical aspects of contemporary denominations and religious groups, including assessment, diagnosis, and intervention.

CHMN566 (2-3)
Mobilizing Laity for the Ministry of Evangelism

This seminar provides an overview of the history and theory of mobilizing laity for the ministry of evangelism. It includes a study of the biblical and theological foundations of mobilizing laity for the ministry of evangelism, as well as an examination of the various models of mobilizing laity for the ministry of evangelism. The course also covers the practical aspects of mobilizing laity for the ministry of evangelism, including assessment, diagnosis, and intervention.

CHMN586 (1-3)
Specialized Approaches to Evangelism

This seminar provides an overview of the history and theory of specialized approaches to evangelism. It includes a study of the biblical and theological foundations of specialized approaches to evangelism, as well as an examination of the various models of specialized approaches to evangelism. The course also covers the practical aspects of specialized approaches to evangelism, including assessment, diagnosis, and intervention.

CHMN587 (2-3)
Apologetics in Evangelism

This seminar provides an overview of the history and theory of apologetics in evangelism. It includes a study of the biblical and theological foundations of apologetics in evangelism, as well as an examination of the various models of apologetics in evangelism. The course also covers the practical aspects of apologetics in evangelism, including assessment, diagnosis, and intervention.

YOUTH STUDIES AND MINISTRY

CHMN534 (2-3)

Youth Ministry Leadership

This course provides students with a comprehensive understanding of youth ministry leadership. It covers the theoretical foundations, practical applications, and current trends in the field. Students will explore the role of the youth minister, the importance of spiritual formation, and the challenges of leading a diverse group of young people. The course includes a practicum component where students will gain hands-on experience in a youth ministry setting.

CHMN608 (2-3)

Youth in Contemporary Culture

This course examines the cultural context of youth in the 21st century. It explores the impact of technology, social media, and global influences on the lives of young people. Students will analyze the values, beliefs, and behaviors of contemporary youth and discuss the implications for ministry. The course includes a research project where students will investigate a specific cultural trend and its effect on youth.

CHMN619 (2-3)

Religious Experience in Adolescence

This course focuses on the religious experiences of adolescents. It explores the developmental stages of faith, the role of the family, and the impact of the church. Students will study the theological and psychological aspects of religious experience and discuss the challenges of fostering a healthy faith in young people. The course includes a case study where students will analyze a real-life example of religious experience in adolescence.

CHMN626 (2-3)

Ministry to At-Risk Youth

This course addresses the unique needs of at-risk youth. It explores the causes of risk, the signs and symptoms, and the effective interventions. Students will learn about the role of the church in providing support and care for these young people. The course includes a field trip where students will visit a ministry serving at-risk youth and observe the work of the staff.

CHMN636 (2-3)

Seminar in Youth Ministry

This seminar provides students with an opportunity to engage in a deep and meaningful study of youth ministry. It covers a wide range of topics, including theology, psychology, sociology, and practical ministry. Students will participate in a series of seminars where they will explore these topics in depth and discuss their implications for ministry. The course includes a final paper where students will synthesize their learning and apply it to a specific ministry context.

CHMN657 (2-3)

Counseling Youth and Young Adults